Convoyer's Report: We arrived on site at about 11.15pm. Water was put before the birds. Rose at 6am and topped up water. Weather was very cold with a strong south wind. It was cloudy but dry and the sun came out at about 7.45am. Liaised with the race advisor and various contacts on the line of flight. I would have preferred to wait later for liberation in order for the air to warm but the forecast indicated rain coming in. It was decided to liberate at 9am. At 8.10am we were preparing the vehicles for liberation and I was cutting strings at the rear of the Volvo on the driver's side. My driver was cutting strings at the front. We had already cut the strings on the passenger side with no problems. Birds began escaping from seven crates at the front and I realised that these crates had not been fully pulled forward – when the strings were cut, the gap between the loose fronts and the bars was too great and the birds were getting out. My drivers are not experienced with pigeons so I must take full responsibility for not ensuring the crates had been pulled to the front and for this I apologise. It won't happen again – I had forgotten I was dealing with different sized crates. I immediately contacted the Combine secretary about the situation. Altogether there were 43 crates belonging to the clubs whose birds had escaped – it was not practical to record the details of the remaining birds from those clubs and time was limited by approaching bad weather. In the end, liberation was at 8.55am – earlier than planned due to approaching rain. The birds cleared well except for the usual few stragglers. En route to home we encountered quite a bit of rain but I understand that a good race was had by most with good returns.

Secretary's Note: The three main clubs involved with the escaped birds were Bridgwater & District; Sedgemoor & Worle E-W. It has since been discovered that Bridgwater Central had birds in one of those club's crates because of topping up part crates. That club has also experienced an impossible velocity and, like the other three will not be included in the result. Bridgwater Central is confident their genuine leading bird would not have figured in the Combine result. Once again, apologies to all concerned – accidents do happen – many thanks for the cooperation of all affected clubs and the convoyer for being honest and open about the incident. As you will see above, 4408 birds were convoyed but affected clubs are not being charged leaving a total of 3749competing birds.
