Convoyer's Report: Arrived on site at 12.30am on Saturday. Made sure all drinkers were filled before turning in for the night at 2am. Topped up the drinkers at 8am and spoke with the race advisor at 8.30am. The weather was beautiful with a NW wind blowing. The Kent birds on site were liberated at 9.15am. We waited until the route home was clear of other birds and liberated at 10.30am in a brisk NW wind – weather was still beautiful with plenty of blue sky and sunshine. The birds split into three groups and all were out of sight with 2 – 3 minutes – last seen heading. NW. They disappeared quicker than the Kent birds before us. Weather was fine on the journey home. I have since been told that two birds were found in the crates when back at base in Yate. I had looked in every crate after the liberation when removing the drinkers and did not see them – I can only apologise.
