Convoyer's Report: Left Radstock at midnight arriving on site at 3am. Watered birds before turning in. Rose at 5.30am and topped up water before opening the curtains. Spoke with race advisor at 8am who suggested getting birds away as early as possible. At this time it was still too overcast and misty and I said we should wait until about 10.30am hoping it would clear. At 10am I again watered the birds and called the race advisor. The mist had cleared and there was blue sky and fluffy white clouds. A light WSW breeze was blowing. The birds were liberated at 10.40am. They split into three groups, did two small circles of the site and disappeared in the general direction of home.

Convoyer: Chris King
