Convoyer's Report Arrived at Newton Abbot racecourse at 1am, watered the birds and bedded down for the night. Got up at 6am and moved the transporters into position for the liberation and watered the birds. At 8am the decision was made to postpone the liberation for a bit as the weather was overcast. The sun came out at 8.15am and warmed the air, clear sky was visible towards the north so we decided to take advantage of this window. The Bristol fed had already decided to liberate at 8.15 so we waited 15 minutes and liberated at 8.30am and although it was still slightly overcast above us the visibility towards the north was very good. There was a bit of south easterly wind with some gusts of around 10 miles. The birds left the transporters and split into two groups, circling the area for a while before heading home.
